THIS WEEK'S GAMES

Friday, Nov. 20 vs. Peoria Rivermen, AT&T Center, 7:00 p.m.
Peoria will make their first visit to the Alamo City of the 2009-10 campaign this Friday. The Rampage fell to the Rivermen in a shootout on November 5 at Carver Arena in the first meeting between the clubs in 2009-10. The Rivermen currently maintain a record of 8-5-1-2 and sit in second place, behind first place Texas, in the AHL's West Division.

SHOTS FROM THE POINT 09-10

STELLAR START: Rampage defenseman Sean Sullivan is currently tied for first among AHL blueliners in game-winning goals (2) and sixth among AHL defensemen in assists (10). Sullivan has 13 points (3g, 10a) in his first 14 games of the 2009-10 campaign thus far, ranking him sixth among all AHL blueliners in that category.

EARLY ADVANTAGE: San Antonio is 5-0-1-0 this season when scoring first in a contest and 2-0-0-0 when leading after the first period of play.

ONE-GOAL WONDERS: The Rampage have yet to record a regulation loss in one-goal games thus far in 2009-10, maintaining a 3-0-2-1 record in games with scores separated by one goal this season.

EARLY ADVANTAGE: San Antonio is 5-0-1-0 this season when scoring first in a contest and 2-0-0-0 when leading after the first period of play.

SPECIAL TEAMS: San Antonio is currently ranked 16th overall on the power play (13.9%) and 17th overall on the penalty kill (83.7%). The Rampage are currently ranked 18th among AHL clubs in home power play percentage (15.4 %) and are ranked 23rd among AHL teams in home penalty kill percentage (81.0 %).

COYOTE WATCH: The Phoenix Coyotes, San Antonio's NHL affiliate, currently hold a record of 11-8-0 through 19 games in 2009-10 and are currently tied with the Dallas Stars for third place in the NHL's Pacific Division.

Ice Chips: #4 Center - Joel Perrault

San Antonio center Joel Perrault has been on a Rampage of late, tallying four points (3g, 1a) in his last four games.

The Montréal, Quebec native and San Antonio alternate captain is currently tied for the team lead in points with 13 (8g, 5a) in 16 games played in 2009-10 thus far. Perrault is the Rampage franchise all-time leader in points with 110 and San Antonio all-time leader in goals with 51.
